THEY'RE two of the world's most successful movie stars, and if rumors are true, Tom Cruise and Angelina Jolie may just be looking for a way to connect.

Tom, 61, has reportedly said that Angelina, 49, is his perfect match.

“Tom raves about Ange's intellect and what a strong, impressive woman she is. He loves that she's never really conformed in Hollywood,” a source told Heat Magazine in May.

“Plus, they're both such superstars, only a handful of people can truly understand the life they live. That in itself creates a bond,” they added.

The source also claimed Angelina was open to getting to know Tom.

They said the Top Gun star was understood to be “taking things slow.”

Looking into the future, psychic matchmaker Deborah Graham said Tom and Angelina might fantasize about being together.

“They may already have this attraction to each other,” Graham told The U.S. Sun.

“While I see them doing things together and see a connection, I see Tom and Angelina already having had this fantasy of being together.

“I would not be surprised if they do go for it and have sex.”

However, Graham assumes that the two celebrities will never last as an item.

“Tom and Angelina are oil and vinegar, which means they can go together but will not mix,” she said.

“I do not see this as becoming a long-term relationship. They will probably be polite and say it is not there.

ROYAL CONNECTION

According to Graham, Tom must search for a partner, perhaps someone like Kate Middleton, who might not "overpower" him.

"Tom needs somebody like Kate Middleton," she said.

"This is somebody who has authority and a person of few words.

"Tom needs somebody who's more mild-mannered.

"He does not need somebody who will try to railroad him or overpower him.

"Angelina would probably eat Tom up and spit him out."

The couple went on to adopt Zahara and Pax. Angelina gave birth to Shiloh, and the twins Knox and Vivienne arrived later.

PRINCE CHARMING

Graham said Angelina would suit a “terminator” type.

“She needs a man with whom she can find that connection and passion,” she said.

“This would be somebody with a strong personality, almost like a terminator, with that firepower.

“Angelina has not got time for a p* boy.

“This would be with someone who will not try to take her energy but somebody who will compliment her.

“This is somebody she can ride with, not a ride-on.

“Angelina still needs to find her Prince Charming.

“This would be someone she can connect with on a deep and spiritual level.”
